

Case Study – Financial Services

First American Title™

One of the largest insurance title providers in the nation

How We Partnered With Microsoft

Edgile has been working with FATCO for over a year on a MS implementation to classify and protect sensitive data within their organization. We developed a strategy for replacing their MIM identity platform with a hybrid SailPoint/Azure solution to:

- Understand the current state of their identity infrastructure
- Evaluate the maturity of their existing tools & supporting processes
- Develop a recommended end state architecture and operational model
- Create a roadmap for migrating from MIM to SailPoint/Azure over two years

Microsoft Win Story

We uncovered a gap in the cloud environment. They needed our support to implement and provide best practice/governance moving forward including:

- Strong Microsoft competency referral and technical insight from our team to provide credibility
- Continuous touchpoint and communication to ensure the First American team understood our ability to work with them to achieve this initiative
- Large investment from First American in the Microsoft E5 platform that has not been leveraged
- Increased need for cloud services for remote work

Problem:

First American started to face data challenges when they put all their data into SharePoint and OneDrive with no way to find what was there.

Solution:

Edgile turned on Microsoft Teams in order to become better organized and helped them to turn on tools from Microsoft Azure.

Value:

Edgile focuses on people, process and technology. We got the compliance, security and IT teams talking the same risk language and focused on the same risk and business objectives.
